“Brilliant.” –Michael Paul, NYC Underground Close-Up Artist

“Captivating.” –Hometown Oneonta

“Masterful.” –The Freeman’s Journal

Brian Miller is an entertainer who specializes in close-up magic and stage comedy magic, whose act is a conscious parody of itself. His work has been praised by some of the biggest names in magic for his innovative ideas and dedication to the art. He also has obnoxiously large eyebrows, to which he credits his success as a magician: “I never had to learn misdirection. My eyebrows do that for me.”

Miller is an internationally recognized author and creator of original magical ideas. He recently filmed two DVDs with Mental Playground Productions set for worldwide release: Approaching Classic Problems with Brian Miller, and The Oops! Deck Vol 2. He was featured in the February 2010 edition of Genii magazine in the legendary Magicana section.

In the words of Brian’s brother Michael: “Brian is powerful; very powerful indeed. He can bend the rules of life.”

Enough said.

Training

While Brian began experimenting with magic at an early age, it was in his teens that he began to focus on classic and contemporary sleight of hand. Joe Malkiewicz, in the April 2007 issue of Hocus Pocus (the newsletter of the International Brotherhood of Magicians' Ring 12), wrote, "Giving in to his voracious appetite and following his love for magic, [Brian] has consumed a tremendous body of knowledge."

Under the guidance of esteemed professional magicians Victor Trabucco, Bill Butski, and Garrett Thomas, Brian has since added a considerable amount to that body of knowledge.

Brian has been an active member of the International Brotherhood of Magicians since 2006.

Peer Recognition / Published Works

In addition to the critical praise that has been afforded to Brian's work, he has an outstanding reputation within the magic community on an international level. He gained this reputation first through word of mouth, and later by authoring and releasing a four part electronic book series entitled Cards, Coins, Thoughts & Theories that is currently sold to magicians all over the world. Each of these e-books contains three of Brian's original magical creations with cards and/or coins, as well as a short essay of thoughts and theories regarding some important issue in magic. Some of the finest and most respected magicians in the world have enthusiastically contributed to Brian's work, including: Jay Sankey, Richard Sanders, David Acer, Gregory Wilson, and Garrett Thomas, just to name a few.

One particular creation of Brian's caught the eye of Michael Paul, a well respected magical creator, NYC underground close-up artist, and founder of the popular magic download website www.TheInvisibleThread.com. Paul believed that Brian's effect had made significant headway in solving the age-old 'Twisting' problem in close-up card magic, calling Brian's contribution to the problem 'brilliant,' and stating that he had not believed that a solution was possible until he was "inspired by [Brian's] thinking." Paul built off of Brian's considerable progress as a foundation in order to create a new effect "Twist3," which was an immediate hit and has since gone on to become one of the best selling new effects of 2009. "Twist3" explicitly credits Brian's work as being integral to its success.
